

"Learning is not attained by chance; it must be sought for with ardour and diligence."

– Abigail Adams

From the Principal's Desk ...

As a lover of poetry, the first words that come to mind, when someone mentions 'April' are 'April is the cruellest month', from The Waste Land by T. S. Eliot, one of the best-known pieces of modern poetry. However, from my vantage point, this year, for The Asian School, April has been the most glorious month, where the students' lifted awards, honours and recognitions from a wide spectrum of spheres – curricular, co-curricular and extra-curricular. The months preceding were equally joyful.

A glimpse of a few of these find mention in the pages of this edition of the Potpourri. While the Aashirvachan and Deepotsav ceremonies and the Investiture set a sober tone to the flow of events, the Graduation Day of the Pre Primary wing was a riot of colourful celebration. To add to that, were the laurels brought home in the field of sports, debates, music, art et al. While Basketball is well ensconced in the spirit of the school, Music and Debating too are emerging as forces to reckon with!

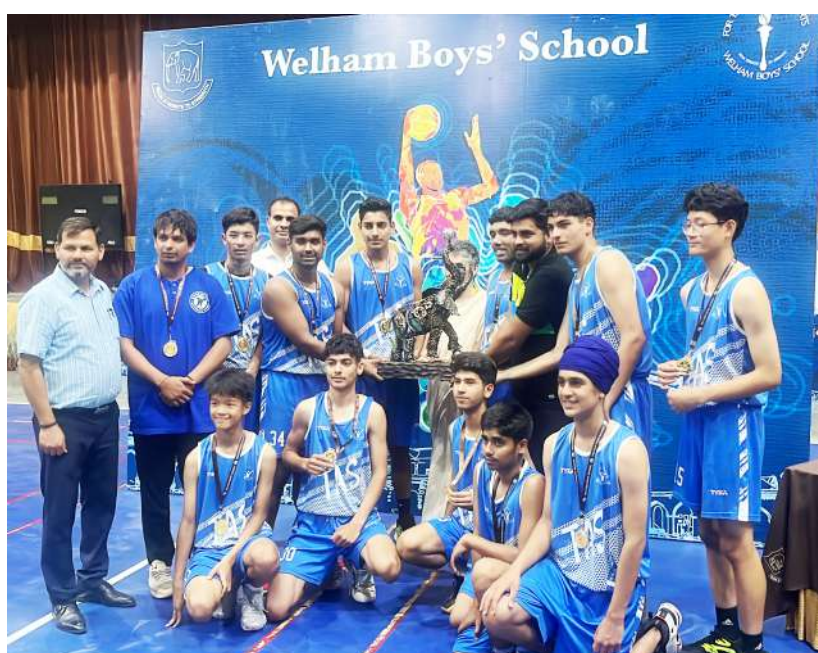

As is rightly said, 'I hear and I forget. I see and I remember. I do and I understand'. Thereby to facilitate the understanding of the basic concepts of Science and technology, another wonderful addition to the routine of the school was the introduction of the STEM and Robotics programme in the Junior and Middle Wings of the School. This is in conjunction with the principles of 'exploration' and 'building a scientific temper' enshrined in the National Education Policy.

So on that positive note, I sign off Optimistic that in the months that follow, our students will gift us with more and more proud moments and we will continue to happily share them with you.
God Bless!
